About the property

The Balcony is a flagship project by Rhom Bho Property, located within walking distance of Nai Yang Beach. The concept focuses on extended living space through deep terraces, allowing residents to enjoy the tropical climate and the tranquility of Sirinat National Park. The "Modern Tropical" architectural design harmoniously integrates the residential buildings into the natural landscape while preserving ancient trees.

The complex's infrastructure includes five themed swimming pools, a state-of-the-art fitness center, a sauna, and dedicated coworking spaces. The internal area is designed as a single park with walking paths and meditation zones, ensuring a high level of privacy and comfort. All apartments feature improved soundproofing and the use of eco-friendly finishing materials.

The location, just 5 minutes from the international airport, makes this property ideal for short-term rentals and digital nomads. The limited land supply within the national park zone guarantees a shortage of new developments in the future, driving price appreciation. Professional management by Rhom Bho Property provides investors with full income transparency and impeccable property maintenance.
